

MEET THE FUTURE OF SIGNAGE

If your business uses backlit, point of sale or directional signage take a minute to examine the i-Sign digital signage revolution.

i-Sign is Electronic Digital Signage that will release you from the costly and time consuming processes of producing and changing traditional signs and displays. With i-Sign you are no longer shackled to a single supplier or locked into long term contracts for your digital content.

Utilising commercially rated LCD Large Format Displays and the latest wireless broadband internet technology the i-Sign System lets you change graphics and slide-shows anytime, from anywhere, be it one i-Sign or many, in your office, around the corner, or across the world – all you need is a computer with internet access.

The i-Sign enables you to harness the power of movement and light, combining informative material with advertising to dramatically increase the impact of your signage.

Because the i-Sign System is wireless you can move it around to maximise impact, draw attention to a particular offer or section, or promote tomorrow's special today. Unlike other digital signage systems the i-Sign doesn't need any additional cabling, AV equipment or DVD players. The i-Sign System only needs a power point.

HOW IT WORKS

All the i-Sign needs is to be located in an area that has wireless broadband coverage and a power point.

Using your choice of design software, like Flexi Sign, Adobe Photoshop or Illustrator, CorelDraw or Photopaint, you or your designer create your signs, posters or slide-shows and then using the internet, up-load them to your personal library on the i-Sign Server.

Protected by Username and Password protocols, your personal library on the i-Sign Server stores all your sign, poster and slide-show graphics, facilitates the sequencing and frequency instructions, enabling you to send your graphics to one or all of your i-Signs.

The marvel of the i-Sign System is that it's simple to use, virtually instantaneous and inexpensive, so say goodbye to static signage and delays and say hello to i-Sign, it will change your signage forever.
